

Psychologist

Children's Cancer and Blood Disorders Program

Pacific Northwest

Randall Children's Hospital is actively recruiting for a clinical psychologist to join the multi-disciplinary team treating pediatric cancer and blood disorders. This position is currently posted as a part-time position but there is potential opportunity for greater hours throughout pediatrics for the right candidate.

Randall Children's program is a full member of COG, and accepts 50-60 new oncology patients from a four-state radius on an annual basis. Our staff model includes five MDs and two Nurse Practitioners, as well as a multidisciplinary team including nursing, case management, social work and other services. We are committed to delivering comprehensive and family-centered care with compassion and excellence and strongly advocate a shared decision making model with the involvement of parents and families. Randall Children's Hospital at Legacy Emanuel is an active member of Children's Hospital Association and COG.

Our brand new, free-standing children's hospital, opened in February of 2012. The hospital has 165-beds including two large general pediatric inpatient units, two subspecialty inpatient units, a dedicated children's ED, a dedicated children's Day Surgery unit, a 24-bed PICU, and level III NICU, with over 100 board-certified subspecialists. Oncology procedures are performed in a state of the art Day Treatment Center designed for maximum comfort of our patients.

Portland

Portland is a city that continually ranks in the top five for livability and includes both urban and family-friendly communities. Approximately 17,000 workers bike to work year-around on 350 miles of bikeways making Portland the number one city in the U.S. for biking. Portland has a wide array of nationally recognized parks for hiking and off-road biking.

Portland is a sophisticated city offering diverse cultural activities including a wide range of theater, musicals and museums open throughout the year. In the spring and summer months, Portlanders gather on the waterfront for concerts and fun activities.

As we consider qualified candidates, we are committed to building a culture that values diversity and is reflective of those we care for.
